The New Liturgy

Father Siegel, in his religion class, brings out the new ideas of life to his students. Although the ideas may not be agreeable to all, they are shared by all. He has brought us closer together by our discussions of the world situations, discussions which make us all admire him.

Father Siegel discusses modern music in relation to the new liturgy with the senior and junior religion classes.

Foreign Languages

Sharron Savage, with the aid of Bob Engblade, shows and tells of her many experiences in Mexico as a foreign exchange student.

SHARRON SAVAGE
Foreign Exchange Student

Dale Kimball and the Latin class re-journey through Caesar's Gaul.

Tomorrow's Success

The key to learning typing is learning the keys.

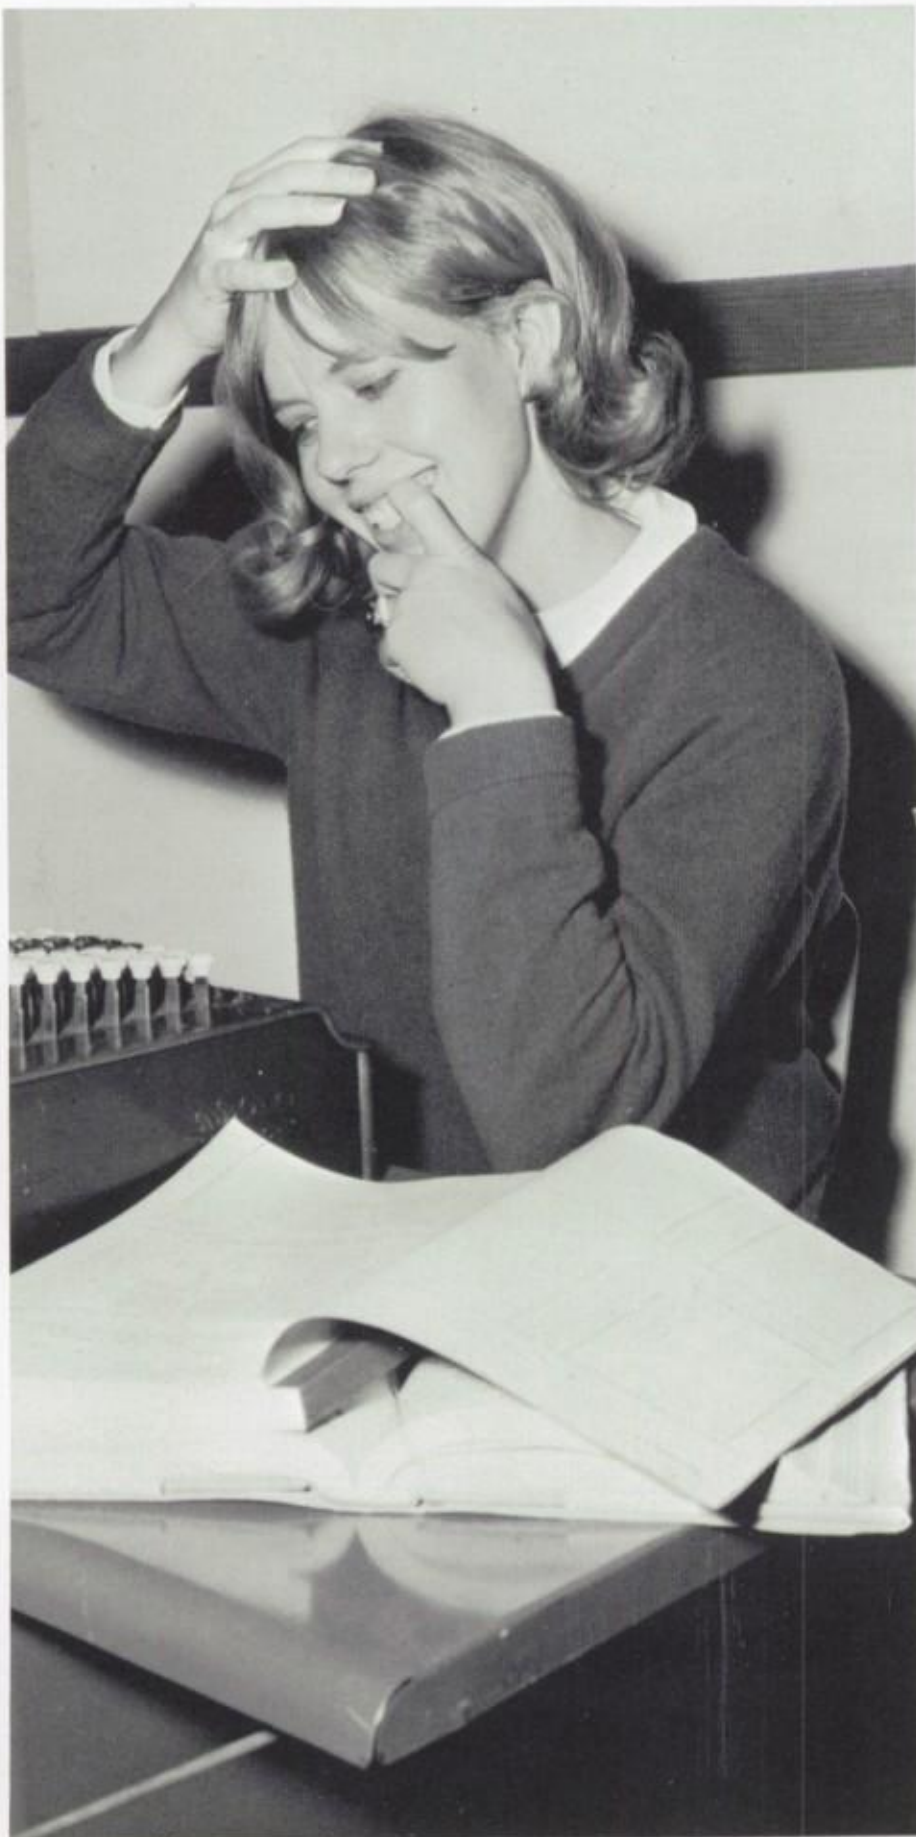

Keep your eyes on the book!

Future secretaries study their hooks and crooks of shorthand.

Is Today's Education

"Help," says Ruthe, "you have to be kidding!"

The rapid clicking of keys is music to the ears of second year typist Shauna Delbarker.

Peggy Williams shows that constant repetition of shorthand characters improves her speed.

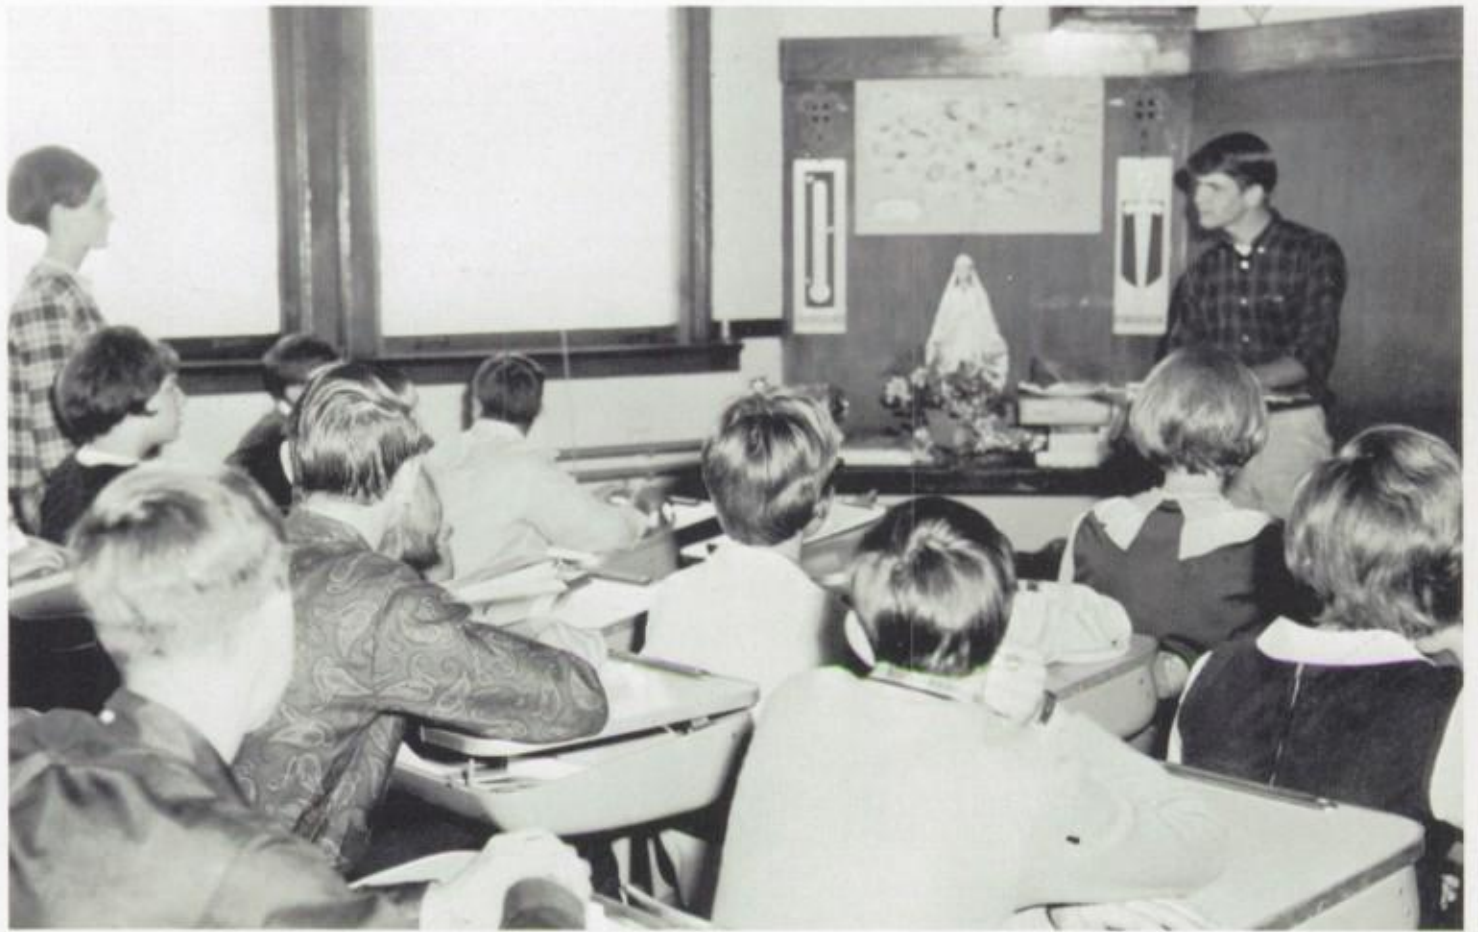

English Explores The Humanities

Janet Erickson dwells upon a well known
subject, "Food."

Gary Nelson critically looks at Margurite Monaghan as she expressed her views on the English Colonial Period.

Jerry Erickson proves that class participation stimulates leadership, as he calls upon the Senior English students to recite.

The Sciences Of God

An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

Steve Goulet and Ed Wagner create electricity in a physics experiment.

Lawrence Welk's bubble makers get in a couple minutes practice before their big debut.

Sister Nora, geometry teacher, speaks on her favorite subject - Geometry.

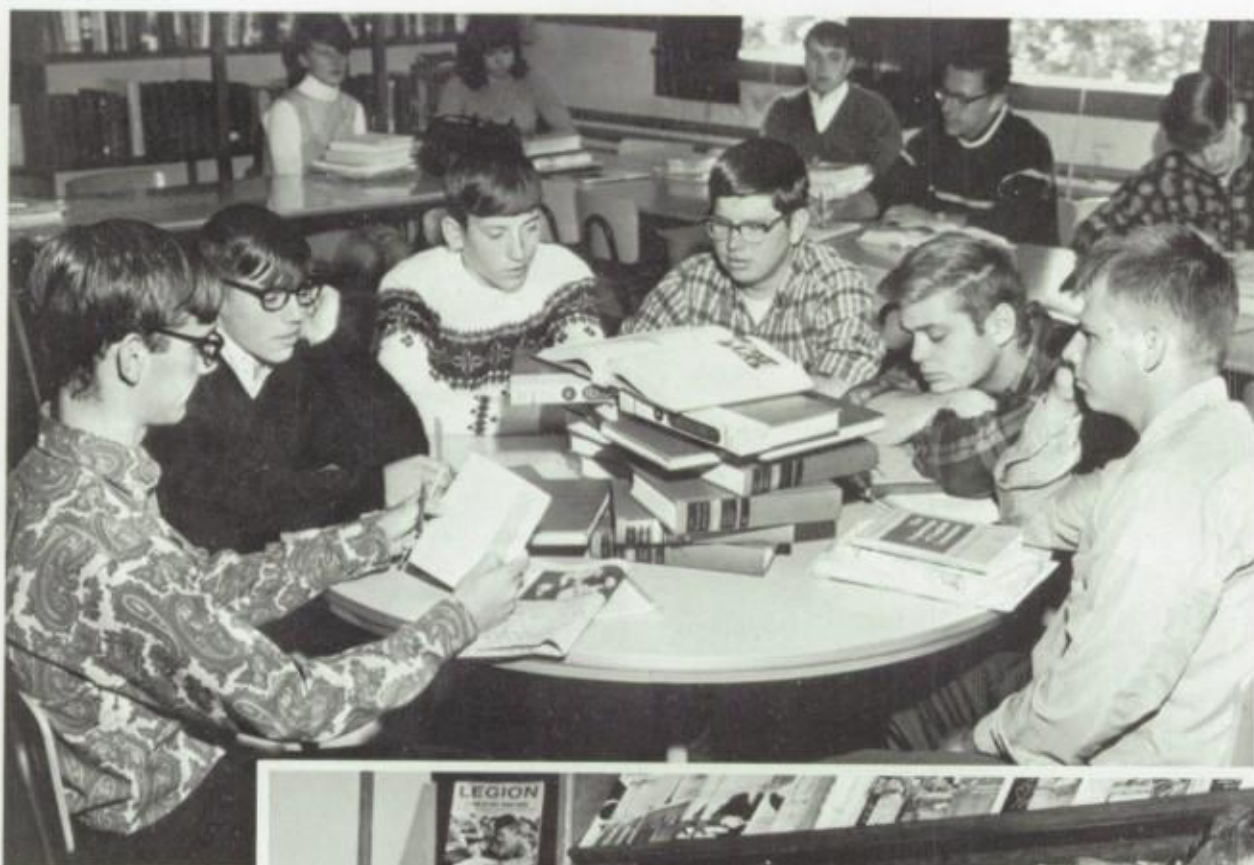

Algebra progression seems to be a problem to Mike Wadel and Steve Goulet.

Increase of Mathematical Knowledge

Ann, Kathy and Beth discover that basic math principles are important in General Business.

Steve Fisher, Tom Jabrocki, Chuck Horacek, Mike Schroeder, Dave Monnot and Bruce Yeck are doing just what the subject requires ---Critical Thinking?

Modern History students use the library magazine rack as a reference to up to date world problems and events.

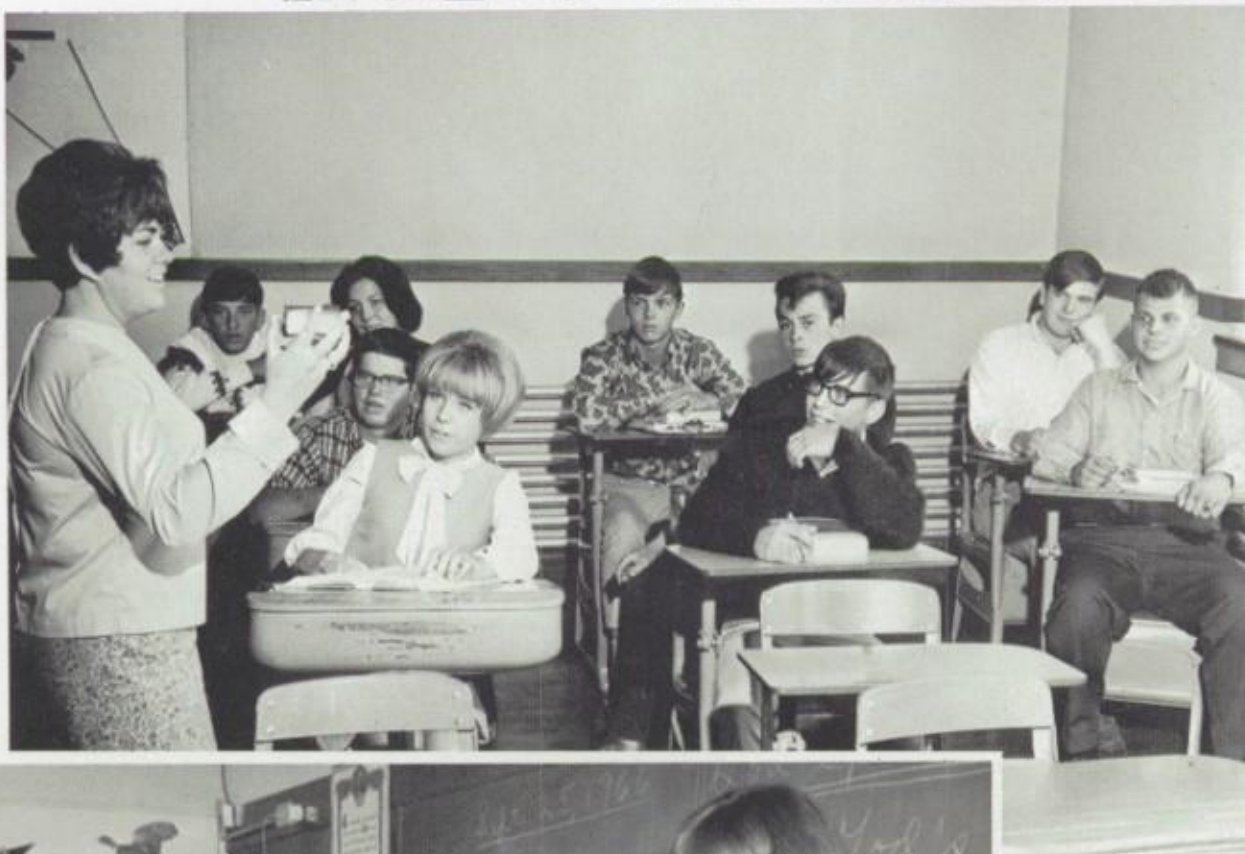

The Ludington Daily News aids the senior Government class in a better understanding of the world around them.

Third hour study hall students find out that the library is the perfect place to find references for their daily work.

"What do you mean $4.98 for a desk calendar?" says Sharon Savage to future saleswoman Lorah Barber.

"I just might get to New York someday," muses Terry Fisher as classmates Margaret Janecki and Karen Bennett look on.

LIBRARIANS--Diane Budreau and Marilyn Hammerle.

PEP CLUB OFFICERS--Peggy Williams, Marguerite Monaghan, Steve Fisher, Diane Wicklund, and Ann Huss.

Father Arthur Allen stands as a guidepost between school and life for the Seniors. He acts as a spiritual boast for the Juniors, so that they might finish their school years as good Christians. We the members of the Cocalla Staff feel that no matter how much thanks is bestowed on Father Allen it can never express the gratitude we feel in our hearts.

Liturgical Activities Inspire Students

The Reverend John Sheehy conducted our annual retreat.

During the past year students of St. Simon's have participated in various liturgical activities. These activities have served to strengthen our faith and enrich our love of God.

To all of us at St. Simon's, liturgical activities are of great importance to our development and future life.

Representatives of the senior class, who participated in the May Crowning are: Peggy Williams, Richard Brickley, Karen Rutowski, John Findling, Linda Lorenz, Queen, John Sherlock, Carol Luskin, Howard Dove, Sue Fisher, and Ed Wagner.

The freshmen prepare their basket before its departure.

Transportation was provided.

The family below expresses their gratitude by their children's smiles.

No one is forgotten at Christmas.

For the Christmas Party the Seniors decorated the tree.

The Freshmen served punch and cookies as refreshments

The Juniors put on "A Christmas Carol"; A three-part play.

The crowd seems to get a big laugh out of the play.

Dan O'Brien shows joy in his Christmas present.

Prom Provides Transformation

The many smiles give witness to the enjoyable atmosphere of the 1966 Junior-Senior Prom.

The Junior-Senior Banquet of 1966 was held at the Hotel Stearns. This highlight of the year proved to be an enjoyable and memorable event.

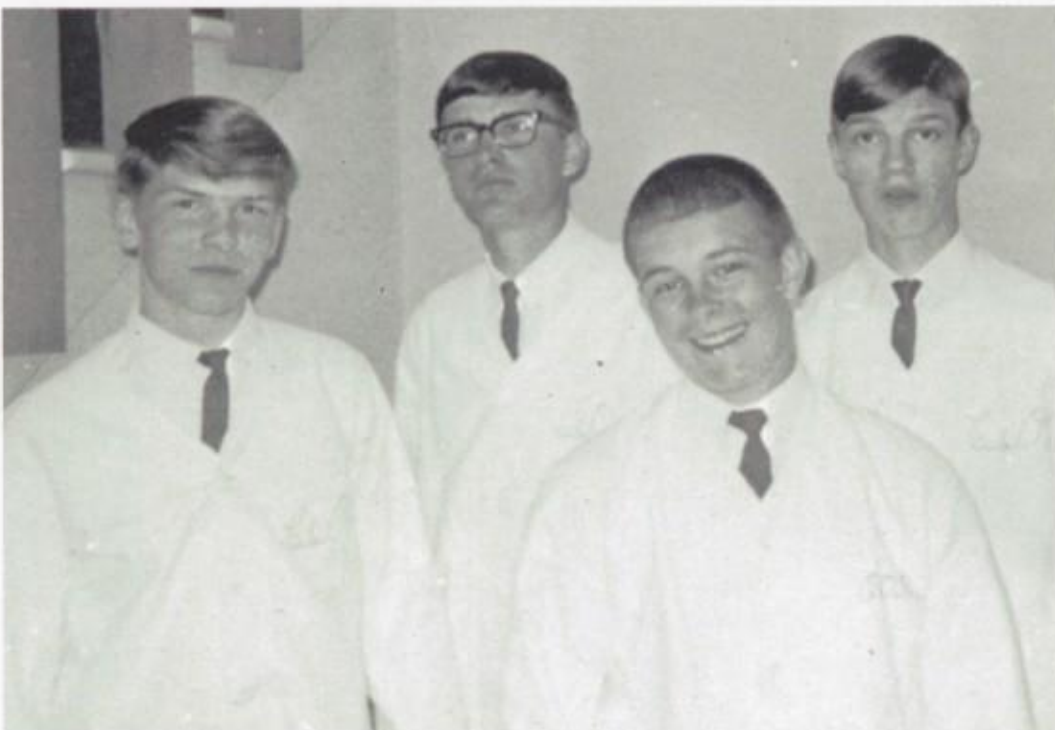

Enjoying a break from dancing, Sue Fisher and Jerry Erickson pause a few minutes by the rock garden.

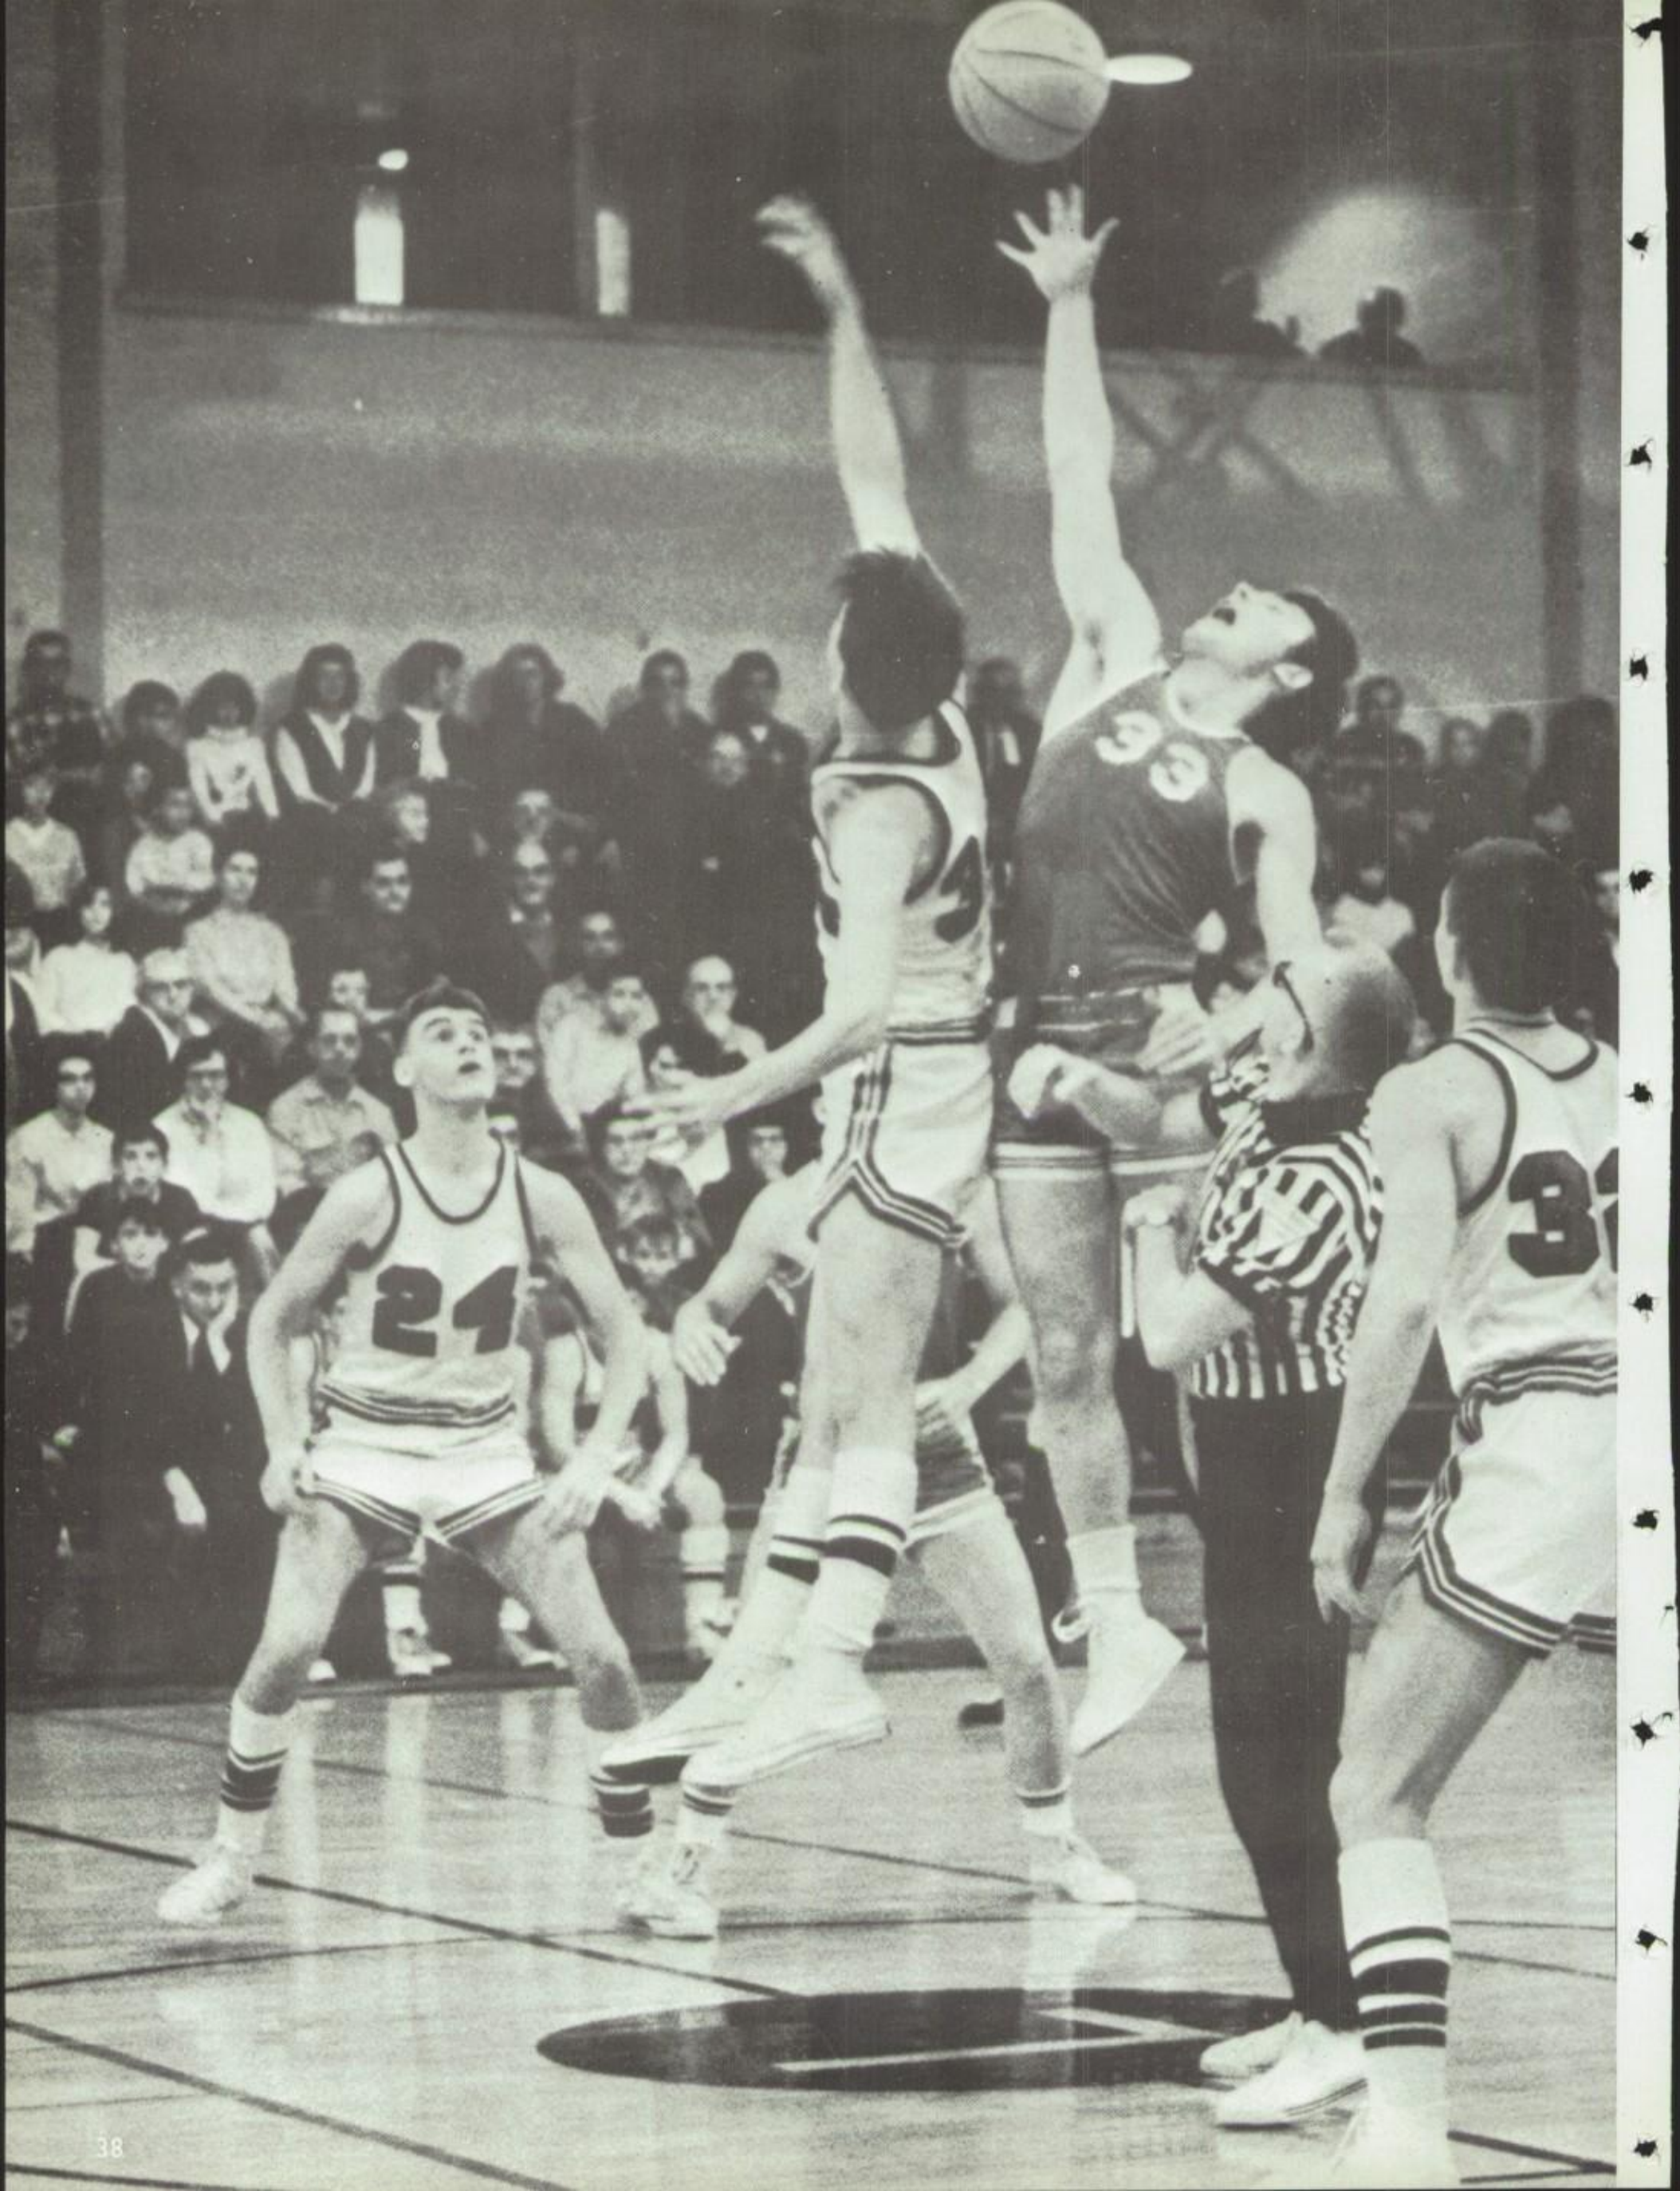

The refreshment table, lined with punch and cookies, serves as an ideal spot for conversation and eats. Ruthe Johnson and Dan O'Brien seem to enjoy it.

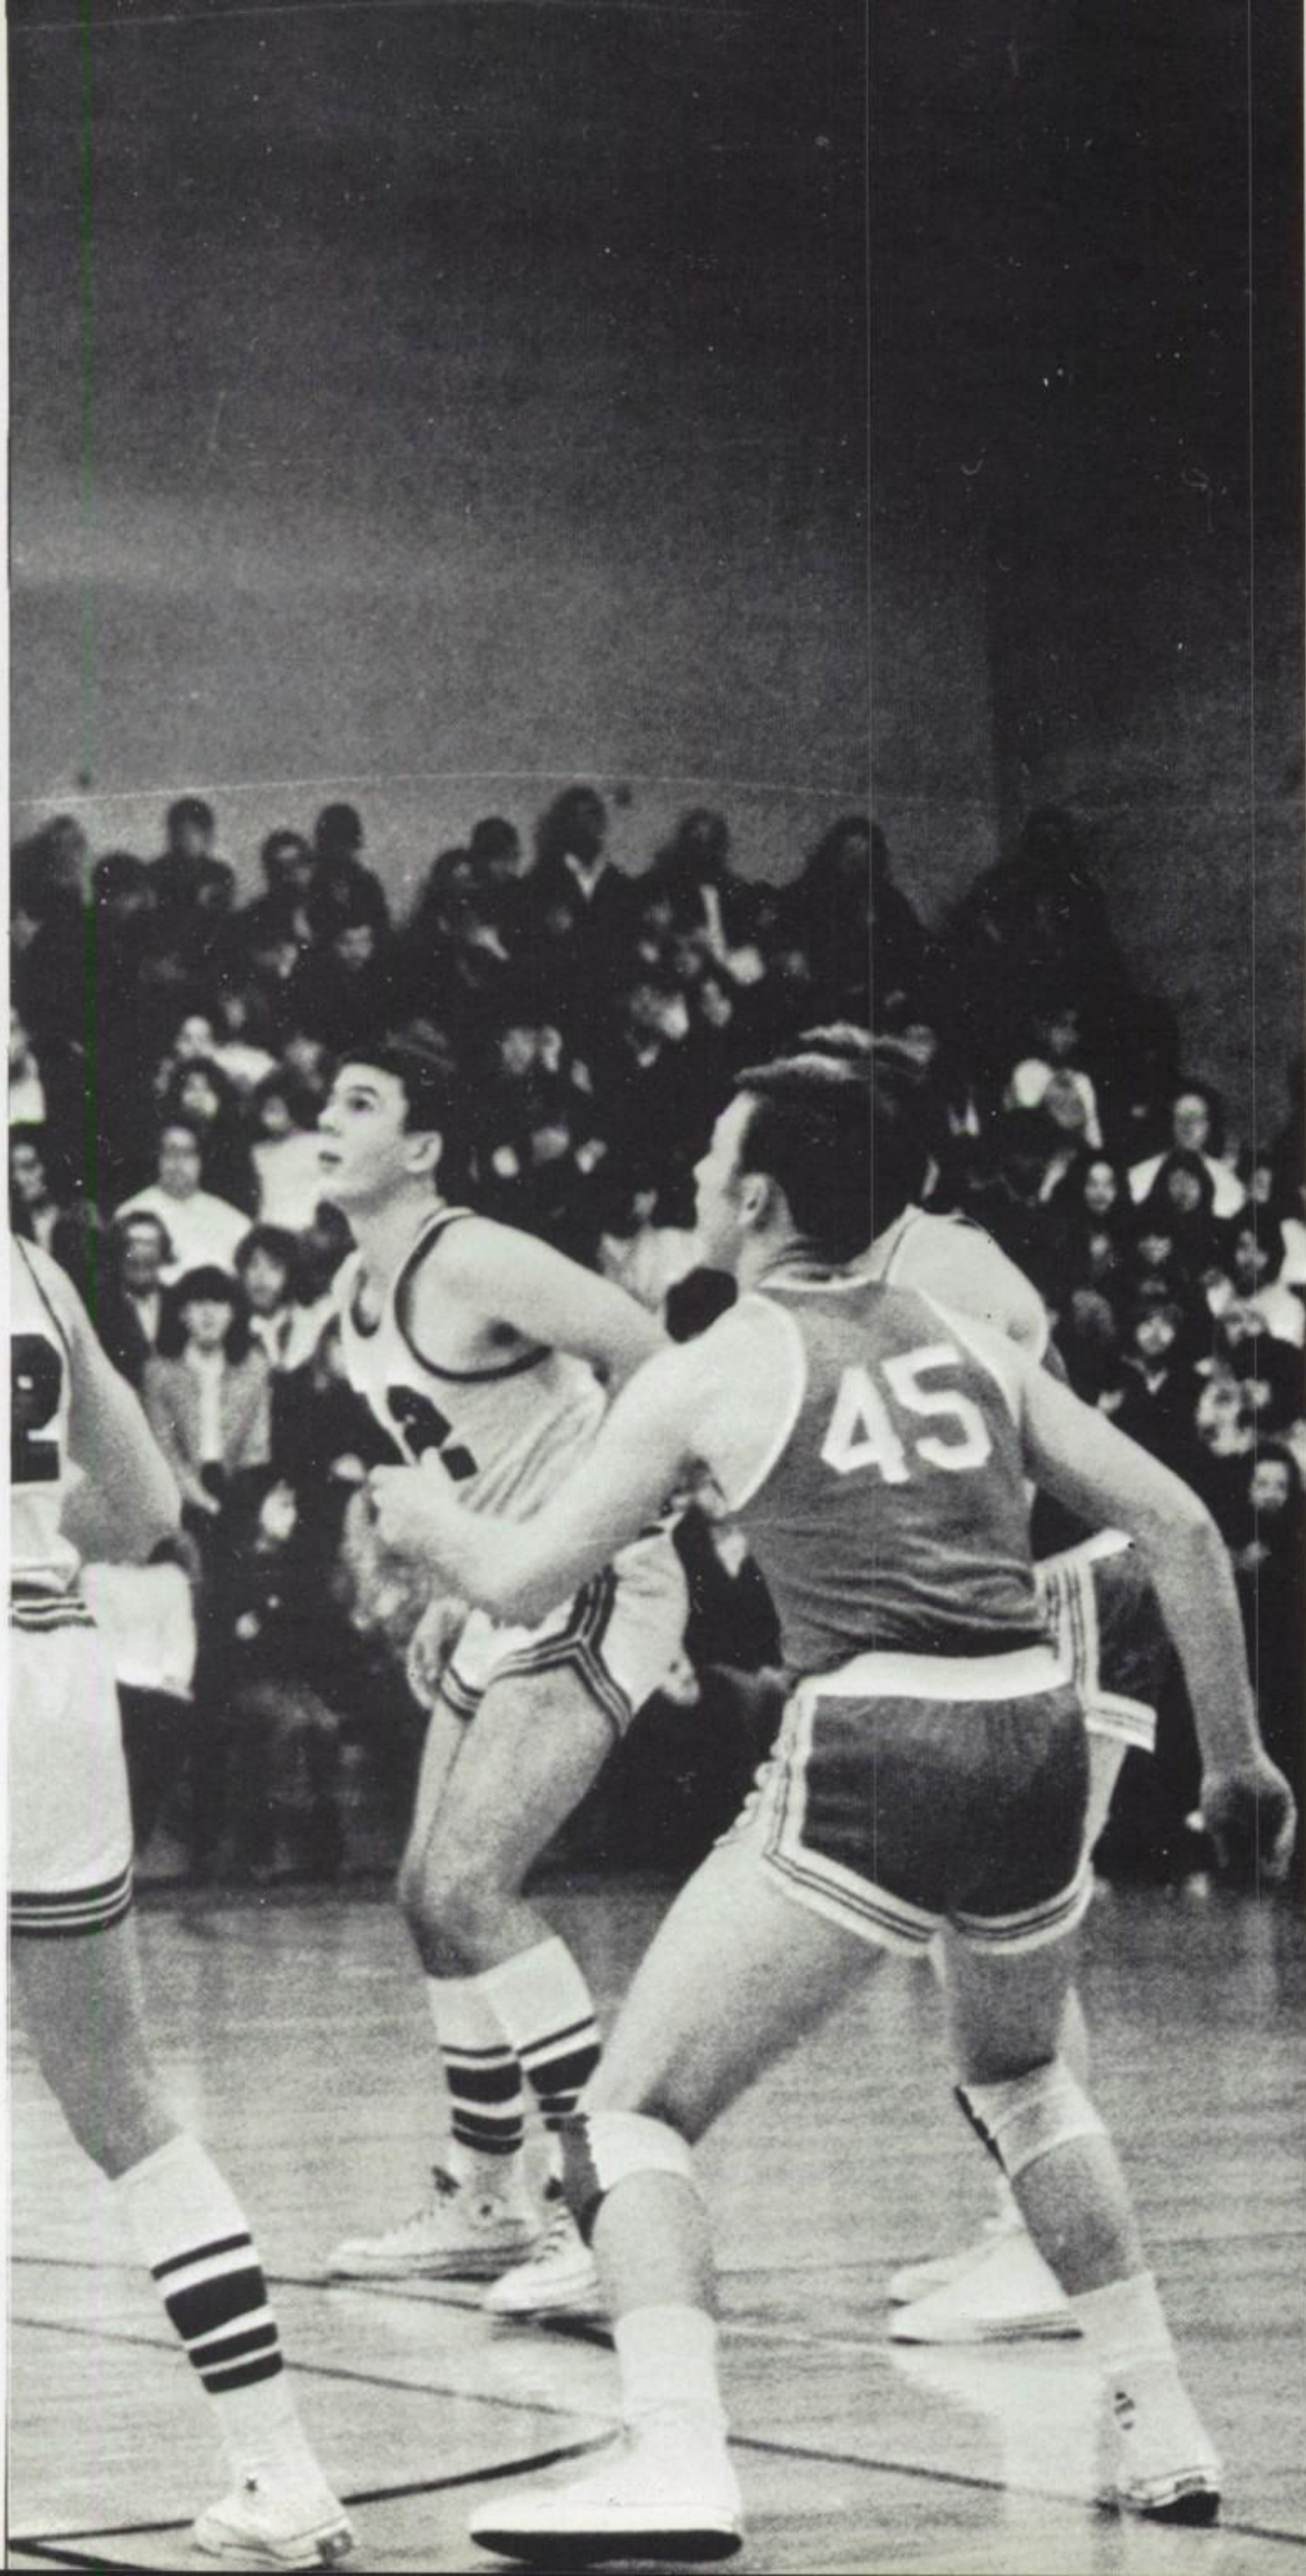

It is the duty and the privilege of the underclassmen to serve as doormen and waiters. For the 1966 Prom they were Gary Nelson, Mike Hathaway, Mike Smith, and John Fisher.

Lincoln Hills Country Club was the scene of the 1966 Prom. Romantic decorations of blue and gold lighting and streamers adorned the theme of "Moon River." Couples whirled to the music of the orchestra. A change from usual school clothes gave the students a chance to display best dress and manners. As the clock struck 12:00 A.M., once again students are turned into just teenagers.

Baseball

Good sportsmanship, never lacking in the St. Simon baseball team, is shown by coach Keith Tracy.

Ball on the left comments to ball on the right, "Boy! These games just tear you apart."

Dan Motyka, starting pitcher, talks of knuckleballs, sliders, and curves before a trial dual with Freesoil.

With team spirit, five of the Shamrock "diamond trotters" huddle together for a pep talk.

This is one of our opponents "bigger wheels."

With nerves on edge, Dan Motyka and Steve Goulet take time to ease them by unraveling a baseball.

With blinding speed and deadly accuracy, Dan Motyka lines one out into shallow center for a sure single.

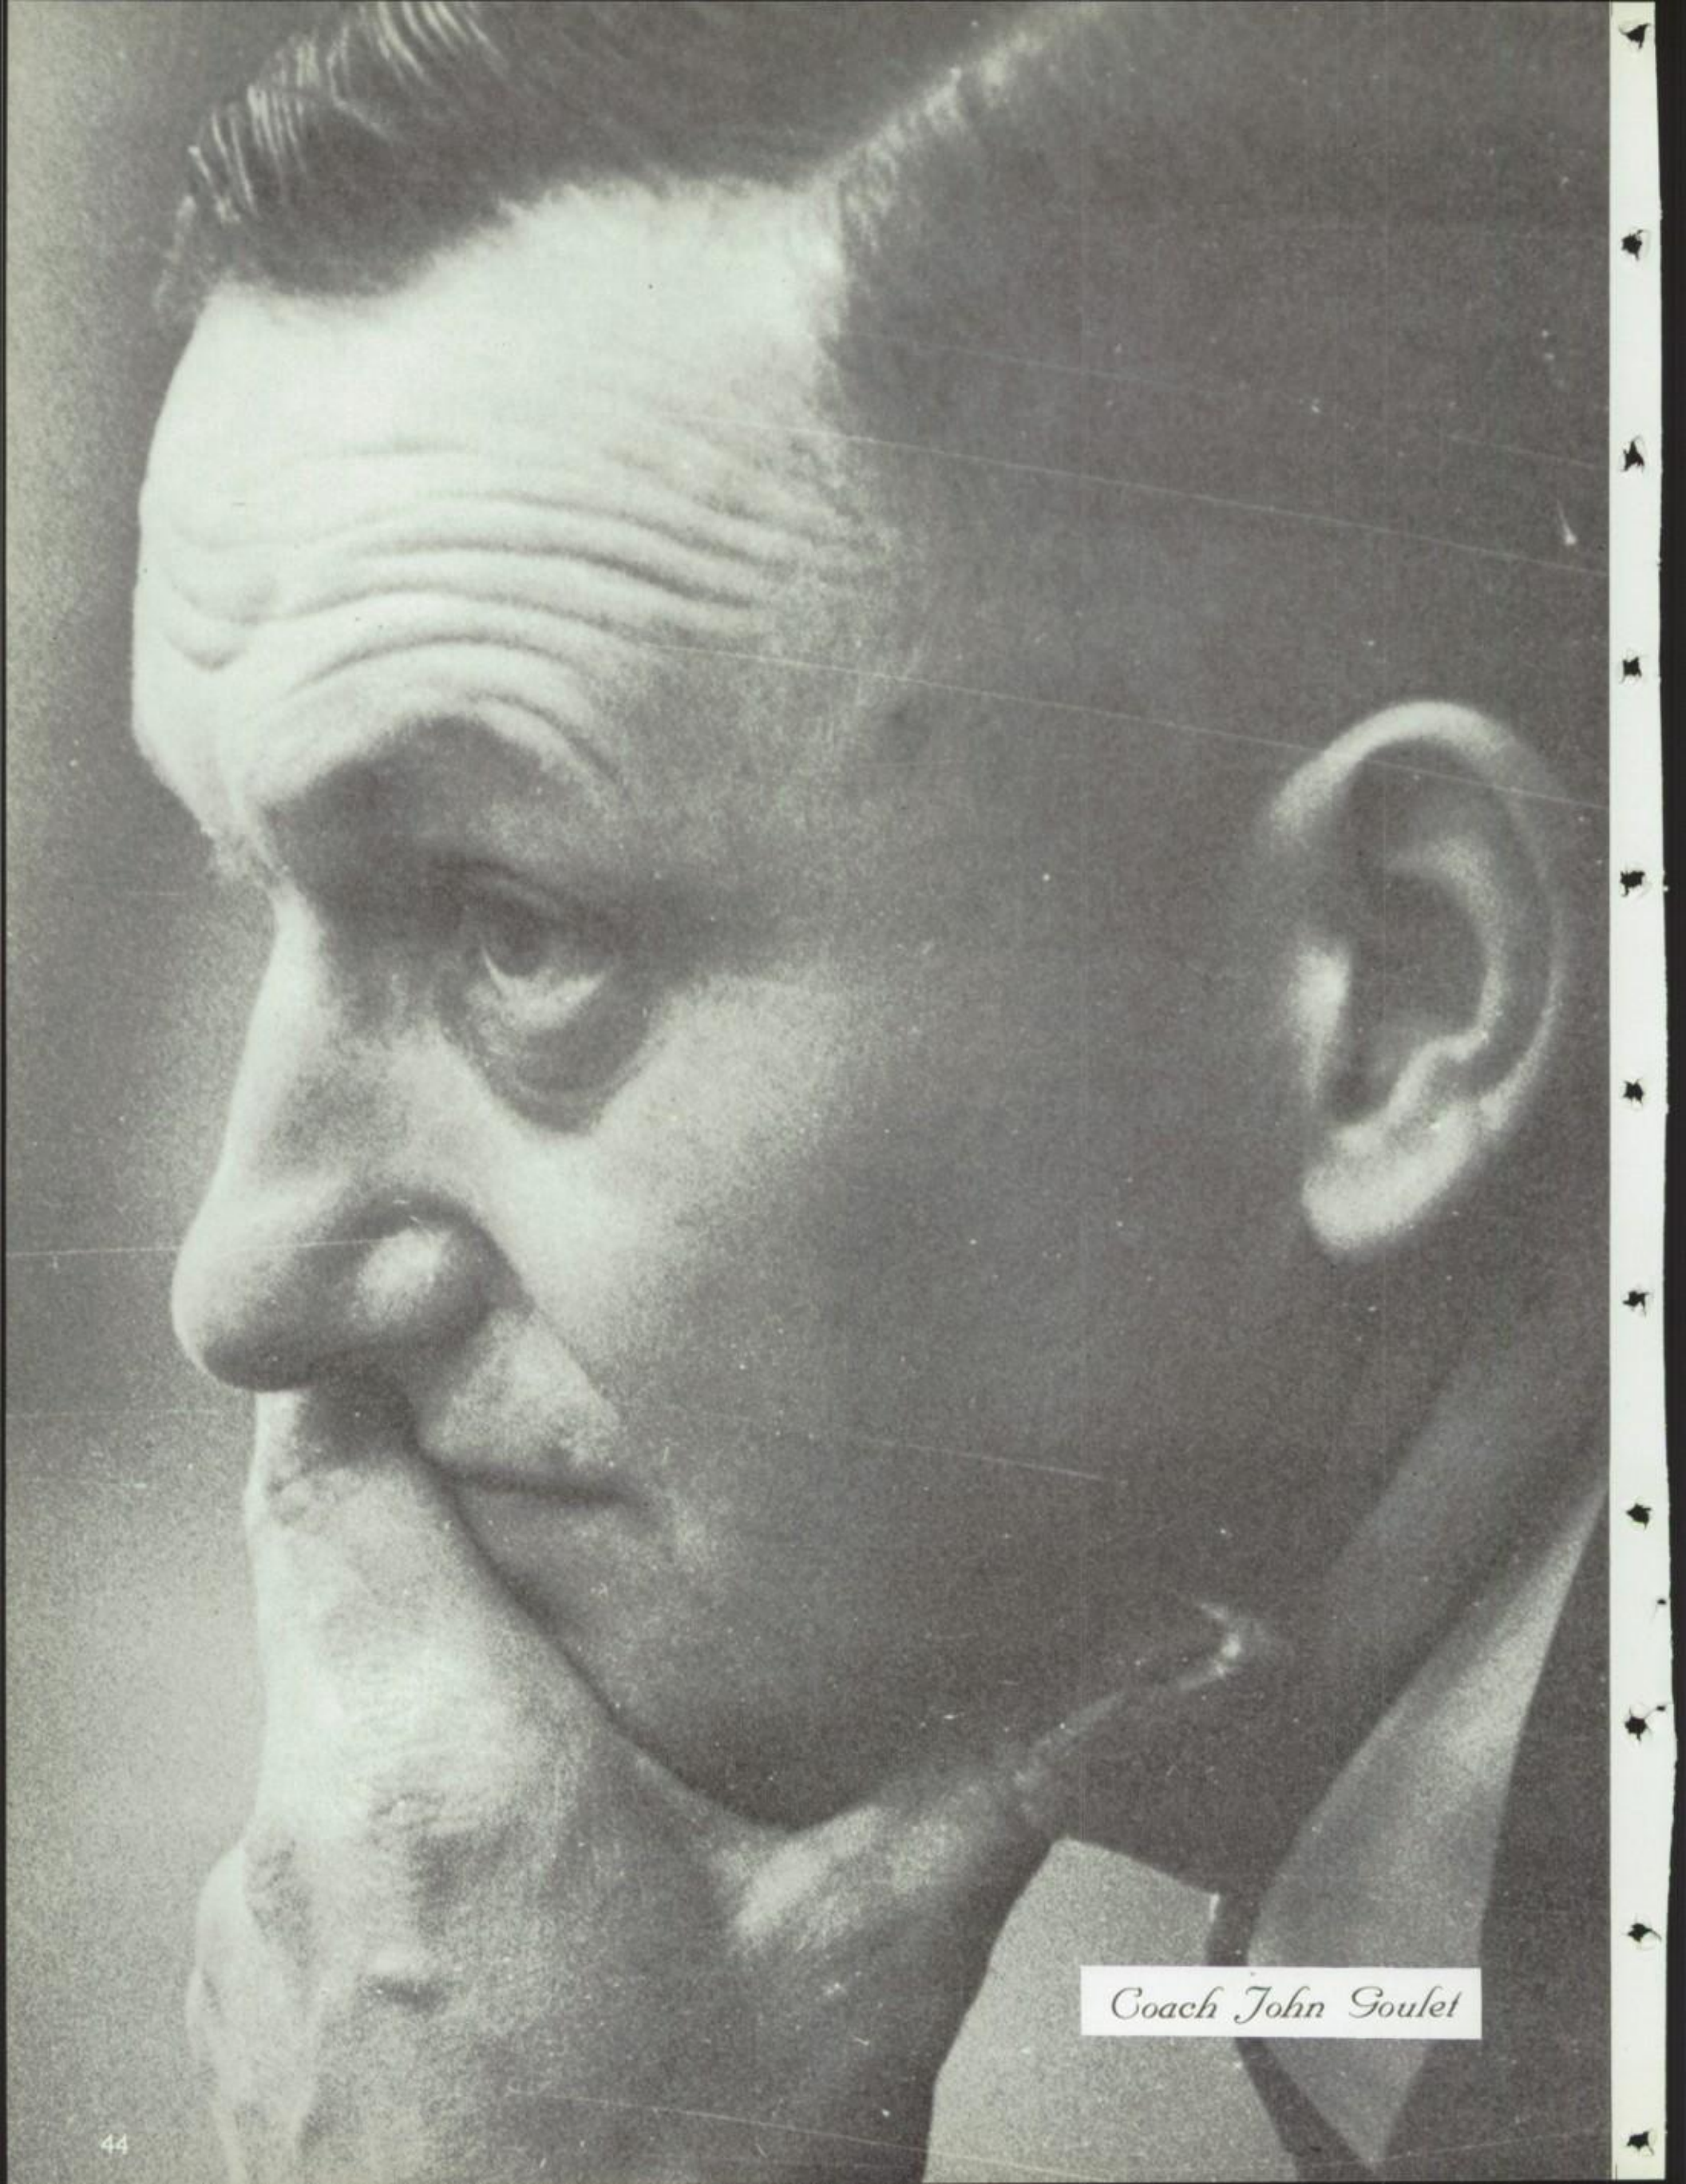

Varsity cheerleaders - Mary Lou Piotrowski, Shauna Delbarker, Ruthe Johnson, Sue Fisher and Pat Hathaway.

The cheerleaders, together with the Pep Club, give that extra vim which is behind the vigor of the team and which draws the student body to all the games and creates a spirit of unity which is distinctly St. Simon spirit and, like a Shamrock, it is a symbol of "God's Unity".

"And we will serve you, master".
The sophomore class of '66-67' saw fit to make a little easy money by having something novel yet beneficial, a slave auction. Since the Latin Club has relaxed on this activity, which was once an annual tradition, the sophomores picked it up and held it during a noon hour. Below is slave Gerard Fellows serving John Sherlock.

My how we've changed! It doesn't seem possible that we can be seniors and graduating this year. Although many of us have grown in different ways, we will always have our same characteristics.

Corolla Farewell

The 1967 "Corolla" is the product of countless hours of hard work, agonizing frustration, and ecstatic moments of inspiration. We have tried to capture through words and pictures the highlights of the year. Without the help of our business staff, photographer, and copy writers, the Corolla never would have materialized. To us, the making of the yearbook was a personal experience. But we realize that it is meant to be shared with all those who are related directly or indirectly to S.S.H.S. This is why we present to you the 1967 Corolla, hoping it will bring many hours of enjoyment and reminiscence now and in the years to come.
